ACWA Member Services

As the largest coalition of public water agencies in the state, ACWA engages on an array of legislative and regulatory issues to represent its members and ensure California has the water supply reliability and improved water quality it will need in the coming decades. Read more about ACWA's legislative and regulatory efforts in the Advocacy section.

Outside of the policy arena, ACWA also has an important role to play in helping its members carry out their mission. The association offers programs and services that support member agencies and help them reduce costs, stay informed and do their jobs as effectively as possible.

Benefits and Insurance

ACWA members have access to a number of benefit programs, including health, dental, vision, life, employee assistance programs, long-term disability, and workers' compensation insurance.
